GEORGE W. McCARTNEY VETERAN ENGINEER CLAIMED BY DEATH

End Came Unexpectedly This Morning at His Fairview Avenue Home; Had Many Experiences.

George Washington McCartney, 69 years old, a widely known retired Baltimore & Ohio railroad engineer, died this morning at 6:30 o'clock at his home 210 East Fairview avenue.

Although Mr. McCartney had been failing in health for the past two years his death was unexpected. He was out in the yard of his home on Saturday afternoon and apparently was in his usual health up until yesterday afternoon when his condition became critical. A year ago this winter Mr. McCartney, accompanied by his wife, Mrs. McCartney, spent the winter in Pineland, Pa., deriving much benefit from the trip. Notice of funeral later.

Mr. McCartney was born in Pittsburgh, February 23, 1849, a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William McCartney. A part of his early life was spent in Pittsburgh. In 1872 he came to Connelville, where he had since resided. Mr. McCartney was in the service of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad for about 35 years. He entered as a fireman and was later promoted to an engineer, having passenger runs for a number of years. He ran the first train out of Connelville over the Fairmont branch and for many years on passenger trains Nos. 50 and 51, running from Connelville to Fairmont.

Mr. McCartney was injured in several railroad wrecks and at one time had a miraculous escape from death when his engine went over a 100-foot embankment at the Pinkerton tunnel at Ursina. The fireman was killed and Mr. McCartney was confined to his home for several weeks. He retired from the service about six years ago and was placed on the company's pension list. Deceased was a life member of the Duquesne lodge of Masons and also a member of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.

Thirty-eight years ago he married Miss Ella Graf, a daughter of the late Samuel and Mary Graf of Connelville. To the union four children were born, three surviving as follows: Mr. Edwin Sellers and Mrs. J. Howard Henderson of Connelville, and Harold G. McCartney, who is in the aviation service at Houston, Tex. In addition to his widow and children Mr. McCartney is survived, by one brother, William McCartney of Omaha, Neb., and one grandson, Billie Henderson. Previous to entering the employ of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad Mr. McCartney ran on the Pennsylvania railroad.

visions to the session part of them joined in an automobile parade over the town. The committee is thankful for this aid on the part of the cars loaned.

Following a brief business session at which matters of minor interest were disposed of President W. E. DeBolt relinquished the chair to Mayor John Dugan who presided the remainder of the evening. Mr. Dugan introduced Attorney S. R. Goldsmith as the first speaker of the evening. Recalling words in an address he delivered at the Moose flag raising last summer that the United States never yet tackled a job too big for it Mr. Goldsmith said he still believed it and called upon the firemen to support the country's cause to the last ditch.

J. W. Morgan, representative of Governor Brumbaugh and the State fire marshal, spoke briefly on the need of fire prevention to cut down the normal losses by fire and the abnormal due to pro-German incendiarism. Firemen have always been first to respond when the nation became involved in war, he said. He recalled the Revolution, when the Civil war and lastly the Spanish war. There is a general movement on now at the instance of the state fire marshal's office, he said, to bring about a reduction in last year's $23,000,000 loss in the state. Communications have been sent to the 2530 districts, including 966 borough and cities, in the state and replies are being received from a large percentage of them, he said. In his closing words Mr. Morgan called on the firemen to do all in their power to make Pennsylvania "fireproof and clean."

After Mr. Morgan, Mr. Pryce presented an outline of what the fire prevention organization contemplates. During the discussion of the proposal Secretary W. H. Shurrah was introduced by Mayor Dugan and made an impassioned speech.

Lunch was served following the convention.

Thirty-seven towns were represented. It being the same as at the first meeting of the Western Pennsylvania Firemen's association.

son, or when engaged in lawful hunting, accompanied by the owner or handler."

If licensed dogs are found beyond the premises of the owner, and unaccompanied by the owner or keeper, "it shall be the duty of every police officer to seize and detain such dog or dogs," and notify the owner. If the costs of detention are not paid within 10 days the officer detaining the dog may sell it or destroy it "in some humane manner."

It is the duty of every police officer to kill every dog found running at large without a license tag. Failure to perform this duty subjects the officer to a fine of $2.00 for each offense under an interpretation of the law by the attorney general of the state no persons, except those named in the act, are authorized to kill dogs or to collect the fee of $1.00 which the law prescribes shall be paid. It would thus appear that the employment of civilians for this purpose is contrary to the intent and meaning of the law.

Any person who sees a dog, whether licensed or not, in the act of pursuing, worrying or bounding any livestock, or attacking human beings, may kill them, and without liability for damage to the owner of the dog. According to the interpretations of the law these are the only instances in which any person other than a police officer or high constable can lawfully kill a dog, licensed or unlicensed.

TO ALL STOMACH SUFFERERS

I use this means to reach all those who have been suffering with stomach trouble; I have been cured and I want to give you the benefit of my experience. I suffered with stomach troubles for seven years; during that time I doctored with some of the best stomach specialists, tried Christian Science, physical culture, a hundred odd family remedies, all the patent medicines I saw advertised to cure indigestion, and took everything anybody would suggest, but with no relief. At last I found a cure; the first dose gave me instant relief; I could hardly believe it would continue to give me relief, but it has now been two years since I have been cured of stomach trouble; all my friends who have used this medicine have been cured; if you have had my experience or know of any of your friends who are suffering, write me, inclosing stamped envelope and I will tell you how to get this medicine; this is no patent medicine advertisement, but is the only way I can reach those who want to be relieved of the terrible stomach misery. ## PROSECUTING THE SLACKERS.

With the draft regulations, just as
with regulations and laws to meet other new conditions, it has not been possible to provide in advance for every contingency. Selective service, as it is now being applied, has been a development which started with certain fundamental principles and has broadened, amplified and been modified to meet many conditions, but the system is not yet perfect.
It early developed that there were certain loopholes permitting the escape of men who are lacking in patriotism to serve their country as soldiers and equally unwilling to serve as workers in some line of useful occupation. Different steps have been taken to make it more difficult for the unpatriotic citizen to avoid sharing with his more patriotic brother
the duties and obligations of military service, and of others to avoid taking their part in industrial service. Recognizing that the regulations have been inadequate in these particulars
the draft authorities have determined upon a drastic modification. In the classification lists in order to remove from the deferred classes those who are not engaged in any productive industry. This will include those who have taken unfair advantage of their deferment under the mistaken belief that such deferment is a legal right,
not a privilege which can be revoked
at any time for its abuse.

The effect of such re-classification will be to induce into the military or industrial service many men engaged in occupations classified as undesirable or hazardous. This ought to prove an effective means of reaching the slack-ers who are of draft age, but unfortunately it will not reach those over the age limits prescribed. These form an army that is multiplying off the labors of others, and contributing in no way whatever to winning the war.
Every community has its quota of sellers and loafers who are subject to no draft regulations, and whose existence is nothing less than a burden upon the economic resources of the country.

Three nearby states, West Virginia,
Maryland and New Jersey, have taken steps to meet the problem of putting an end to idleness and forcing the slacker to engage in some useful occupation. Through laws enacted by the state legislatures every able body
man within the limits of these commonwealths is obliged to spend a specified number of hours in real labor every week. The enforcement of the laws is meeting opposition from certain classes, as would be expected,
but in the main they are accomplishing their purpose where they do not have the effect of driving the loafers
out of the state.

THE ONLY BASIS OF PEACE.

The Kaiser and his ally, the emperor of Austria-Hungary, can no longer have doubts as to what to expect before a peace is concluded, or what must be its basis when concluded. Having challenged the world on the issue of autocracy against democracy, and devoted their every energy to the extension of Prussianism as the dominant force in government, America has given answer to that challenge, not alone in the Third Liberty Loan drive now under way and the calling of still more men to the colors,
but in the adaptation of industry, business and resources of our country to the business of winning the war. The determination of the people and the nation to eliminate Prussianism from the world, and to maintain our ideals of political liberty, was never so strong as now. To give this determination effectiveness, the nation is ready to use its whole power, as President Wilson expressed in his Bath-more speech Saturday night when saying:

"Force, force without stint or limit, righteous and triumphant force which shall make right the law of the world."
This, and this only, is the basis upon which Germany can negotiate peace.

WHO FIGHTS AT HOME, SAY I.

By Roland G. Usher.
We cannot fight a war and still do business as usual. This means you and not other people. You might as well come to it first, as last. The war is unusual and we shall have to have unusual business to deal with it.
The gist of it is this: The nation
has just so many hands and just so much energy—just so much raw material and labor. There are only twenty-four hours in the day and three hundred sixty-five days in the year. We can make only so many things in a given time with a given supply of time and material. If we make some things we cannot make others. If we put sugar into candy to stuff the women we cannot have sugar to feed the soldiers. If we make autos for pleasure only, we cannot use the material, labor, and energy for tanks and aeroplanes. If we burn the gasoline on Sundays, the boys in France cannot use it in battle.

The whole truth is that we must stop business as usual. And this is where you come in—you must stop spending as usual. Do it now. Put your money into gunpowder and not face powder; into tanks and not improvements; into food for the trenches; instead of spending it in hotels and restaurants. But you cannot buy directly for the army. The government must do it.

Give the government the money and buy a Liberty Bond.

German women are sure to recall the significant fact that the Kaiserin

A National Crime

Rich man, poor man, beggar man,
thief, what do they eat for their dinner? One may eat terrapin, while the other eats onion, yet each one of these men might quite readily cut a slice of bread from exactly the same loaf.

Let the rich man continue to eat his terrappin and the poor man continue to eat his onion as he can afford it,
but let the rich man, poor man, beggar man and thief all know that there is one thing which none of them can afford—that is to waste even so much as a crumb of bread. We must respect this loaf of bread. Not a bit of it must be wasted.

Here in America where for years
there has been plenty and to spare
in foodstuffs, a single slice of bread seemed an unimportant thing.
But now America is united with England, France, Italy, Serbia and the other allies in a great moral war, and what is a sin for them is a sin for us. In Serbia not so very long ago a slice of bread would not buy a loaf of bread.

A Serbian lady of rank and great wealth was among the men, women and children fleeing before the Germans. Her money and jewels had been stolen, all except a pearl necklace worth hundreds of dollars; this
she had hidden beneath her dress.
She tried in vain to exchange this necklace for even a loaf of bread.
But bread could not be had at any price.

And in England to throw away a piece of bread is a crime punishable by the law. Late last summer a police officer found in an ash can of a prosperous English woman a piece of bread. He reported this to the officials and she was fined twenty shillings.

Another story of the same kind is of a restaurant keeper who threw away 150 pounds of stale cake. The proprietor was called before the judge and fined $100.

Certainly what is a crime in England is wrong in America. The law may not punish the individual in this country, but for that very reason
there is and should be a more severe guiltment meted out to each and every one of us by that most highly moral of all judges—our conscience.

When we throw away a slice of bread, a half slice of bread or even a crust of bread, we are directly taking it from the plate of one of the hungry allies. The bread we waste is causing some one to go hungry,
and we are failing in our duty to our country and to the world.

VINOL MAKES GOOD BLOOD

Positive—Convincing Proof

Many so-called remedies for anemia are only so in name. Their makers are afraid to prove their claims by telling what their medicines contain.

The only way to be honest with the people is to let them know what they are paying for. Here is the Vinol formula. When the doctor knows what a medicine contains, it ceases to be a "patent" medicine.

By Cod Liver Oil, Best Potassium Iron and Magnesium Phosphate, Iron and Ammonium Citrate, Lemon and Soda Glycyrrhizate, Cinnamon.

Any doctor will tell you that the ingredients of Vinol, as named above, will enrich the blood and banish anemia and create strength. When the blood is pure and rich and red, the body is strong and robust.

You can prove this at our expense because your money will be returned if Vinol does not improve your health.

Strive To Have Healthy Skin

Next time you are in a gathering of women note the different conditions apparent in complexion. You will see some mild with blackheads, some dry and rough, some smooth and glossy, some smeared with rouge, some streaked with heavy metallic powders and once in a while you will see one that is a demonstration of intelligence from every point of view. The color is rosy, the skin is clear and smooth, the pores are small and open, the powder does not show on the skin. Vigorous skin. ## Uncle Sam's Food Lessons

(Special Information Service U. S. Department of Agriculture.)

START THE DAY RIGHT.

A good breakfast can be had of Fruit, Cereal, Milk. These make a nourishing, easy to cook, good, cheap meal of foods the government asks us to eat.

Use Fruit.

Fruit helps to keep your body in good health and to prevent constipation.

Use fresh fruit when possible. Use prunes, dried apples, dried apricots. Soak them in water over night and cook them long enough to make them tender.

Use dates or raisins. These are good added to the cereal ten minutes before taking it from the stove. Then you will not need sugar.

Use ripe bananas with dark skins. Bananas with greenish-yellow skins are hard to digest unless cooked.

Use Cereals.

Cornmeal mush, oatmeal, rice, hominy (grits).

These are much cheaper than the "ready-to-eat" breakfast foods. A "ready-to-eat" breakfast food may cost 15 cents for a big package, but if the package contains only one-quarter pound—60 cents a pound—for cereal.

This is eight or ten times as expensive as cornmeal at six or seven cents a pound. Look for the weights printed on the package and get the most for your money.

Cornmeal mush and oatmeal are good only when well-cooked. Many people use too little salt and don't cook them long enough.

To cook cornmeal mush for five people use one and one-half cups of cornmeal, two tablespoons salt (level), five or six cups of water. Bring salted water to a boil. Stir in the cornmeal slowly. Don't let it lump. Cook it at least 30 minutes. It is better when cooked for three hours, or overnight. Use a double boiler on the back of the stove, or a flameless cooker.

For oatmeal use two and one-half cups rolled oats, two and one-half cups water, five or six cups water. Bring the water to a boil. Stir in the rolled oats slowly into the boiling water and cook for one hour, or overnight.

Use the cereal with milk or stir up butter or better substitutes. You don't need bread besides.

A large amount of cornmeal or oatmeal may be cooked at one time. The unused part placed in a greased bowl may be kept for a few days in a cool place. Do you know how good steamed and fried oatmeal is?

Instead of breakfast food you can take bread—preferably one of the war breads. Corn bread and milk is delicious.

Use Milk.

Milk is an excellent food. A quart of whole milk gives as much nourishment as one pound of lean meat.

Children especially need it to make them grow strong and keep well. It is good for grown people, too. Give each child at least a glass for breakfast. Drink it hot or cold; or use it on the cereal, or make it into cocoa. Even at a high price milk is a cheap food for children.

No Coffee and Tea for Children. These are not food. Let the grown people have them if they want them, but do not give the children even a taste. The children's drink is milk.

URGES NATURAL ICE HARVEST

Uncle Sam's Fuel Administration Points Out a Way to Save Millions of Tons of Coal.

A great harvest of natural ice is proposed by Uncle Sam's fuel administration as a means of saving coal this winter. Fifteen million tons of ice are used annually in American ice factories and refrigerating plants. The winter season manufactures each year, without expense to man, billions of tons of ice. Most of this is wasted.

Every ton of natural ice which is harvested will take the place of a ton of artificial ice and will save 500 pounds of coal.

Every householder, storekeeper and farmer who can obtain ice from nearby rivers and ponds and store it for use next summer is urged to do so.

The organization of the 5,000 ice-making plants of the country along lines of fuel economy is receiving the attention of the fuel administration.

Get Fundamental.

He looked at his wrist watch. "Will you marry me?" he said. She blushed.

"There is really no time to lose. You see, I have only 24 hours' notice. I must report at headquarters tomorrow at nine. We sail for France in three days. Will you marry me?"

"I don't mind," she said. "Only—I should like to make one condition."

"And that is?"

"I have dreamed for years of getting married, but not in this way. But I will marry you if—when you return—you will propose to me all over again and we can go on a honeymoon and I can be courted and—well, you know, I am sure!"

"All right," he said with a smile. "To be honest with you, dearest, I thought I was going to escape all that—but I see it's no use. I might have known better. Even a war like this cannot keep a woman from having her own way—especially about a wedding."

SCHOOLS AID FOOD CAMPAIGN

Uncle Sam's Bureau of Education Reports Prompt Response by Pupils to Nation's Need.

The response of many city school departments to the need for the production and conservation of food in the United States has been prompt and efficient, according to Uncle Sam's bureau of education. Thirty-four city school superintendents have reported a total of 87,888 children engaged in the cultivation of home vegetable gardens.

"During the coming year the need for the production of food will be greater than ever, and profiting by our experience, we should train the children under our care to increase their production and render a greater service to our country," says a bulletin of the bureau.

"During the period of the war many individuals and agencies are giving voluntarily of both time and money in the campaign for the production and conservation of food.

With the return of normal times this voluntary taxation will be largely withdrawn. School-directed home gardening has demonstrated its economic and educational value. The work should be intensified and incorporated as a part of the school program in every city and town of the United States.

Gardening under the direction of a well-trained teacher returns to the community in money many times the cost of the work. The half of our population that lives in cities should in so far as possible, be taught to grow its own food that in any future crisis that may come to the United States the lack of knowledge and ability to produce food shall not be a national weakness."

Kissing Always Popular.

Kissing was once a dangerous game to play in England. Thus in 1690 we read that Jacob Marlowe and Sarah Tuttle were prosecuted for "setting down" on a chaise together, his arms about her waste and her arms around his neck, and continuing in that sinful position about half an hour in which time he kissed her and she kissed him, or they kissed one another, as ye witnesses testified."

To Prevent Old Age Coming too Soon!

"Time poisons in the blood are thrown out by the kidneys. The kidneys act as filters for such poisons. If we wish to prevent old age coming too soon and increase our chances for a long life, we should drink plenty of pure water and take a little Anuric," says the world-famous Dr. Pierce of Buffalo, N. Y.

When suffering from backache, frequent or scanty urine, rheumatic pains here or there, or that constant tired, worn out feeling, the simple way to overcome these disorders is merely to obtain a little Anuric (double strength) from your nearest druggist and you will quickly notice the grand results. You will find it many times more potent than lithia, and that it dissolves uric acid almost as hot water does sugar.

TAMMANY, PA.—"I am pleased to recommend Dr. Pierce's Anuric Tablets because of the benefit I received from their use. They have cured me and made a better man of me. Was working for the L. V. R. R. as carpentering and was obliged to leave work and go home because of pain, but 'Anuric' has cured that all most entirely. I am in good health, which the photograph proves."—EDWARD H. BANKS, TAMMANY, Pa.

STEWARTSTOWN, PA.—"I took Anuric Tablets and find them very good to neutralize the acid in the system. I have received more real benefit and comfort from their use than anything I have ever taken. I have been suffering for years from uric acid troubles and really believe Dr. Pierce's Anuric is a specific for such troubles."—MRS. M. E. WESS.

The Voice of Lincoln

"We accepted this war for a worthy object, and the war will end when that object is attained. Under God, I hope it will not end until that time."

Fifty-four years ago when many people were asking, as some are asking to-day, what was the use of the war, Abraham Lincoln replied in the above stirring words.

The voice of Lincoln can be heard in America today. His appeal is for us to keep up the struggle until the object of the war is obtained and the world is made safe for democracy.

Every person in this country has a distinct share to do and YOUR share is to buy LIBERTY BONDS to provide the United States Government with the necessary money for carrying on the war to a successful end.

The more Bonds you buy, the quicker will the war end and the more American soldiers will return home safe and sound.

These American soldiers are risking their lives, but the buyer of LIBERTY BONDS does not even risk his money. When you buy a LIBERTY BOND, in addition to the satisfaction of performing your patriotic duty, you get the best investment in the world—a United States Government Bond, guaranteed by the richest nation in the world.

HOW TO GROW

Muskmelons.

A sandy loam with plenty of well-rotted manure incorporated in the soil is well adapted to the production of muskmelons. The muskmelon is a heat-loving crop, requiring a long growing season, about four months, and cannot be planted until the ground has become warm. For this reason it is useless to attempt to grow the muskmelon in sections where the growing season is not sufficiently long or where the temperature is not uniformly high. The northern portion of the United States is not suited to the growing of this crop for the reasons cited above.

It is advisable to start the plants in berry boxes or on sods in the hot-bed, transferring these to the open ground after the ground has become warm. In this way considerable time can be saved and much better results obtained. It is a good plan to place plenty of well-rotted manure in the hills, which should be about 6 feet apart.

Sufficient seed should be planted so that four good strong plants may be had in each hill. Another plan is to sow in drills in rows 6 or 7 feet apart thinning the plants until they are from 18 inches to 2 feet apart in the rows.

Cultivation should be frequent and thorough until the vines begin to run. After this the only cultivation required is to keep weeds down.

Muskmelons are liable to be attacked by several diseases and have at least one serious insect enemy. For information on the control of insects and diseases affecting the muskmelon, refer to Farmers' Bulletin 953 entitled "Control of Diseases and Insect Enemies of the Home Vegetable Garden."

RAINBOW'S END
A NOVEL
BY REX BEACH
AUTHOR OF
"THE IRON TRAIL" "THE SPOILER'S" "HEART OF THE SUNSET" ETC.
COPYRIGHT BY HARRIS AND BROTHERS

With a bluntness not unkind he asked O'Reilly what had brought him to Cuba.

"So? You wish to go west, eh?" "Yes, sir. I want to find Colonel Lopez."

"Lopez? Miguel Lopez? the general inquired quickly. 'Well, you won't have to look far for him.' General Gomez's leathery countenance lightened into a smile. 'He happens to be right here in Cabañas.' Calling Judson to him, he said: 'Amigo, take Mr. O'Reilly to Colonel Lopez; you will find him somewhere about. I am sorry we are not to have this young fellow for a soldier, he looks like a real man and quite equal to five quintos, eh?'

It was the habit of the Cubans to refer to their enemies as quintos—the fifth part of a man. With a wave of his hand Gomez returned to his reading.

Col Miguel Lopez, a handsome, animated fellow, took O'Reilly's hand in a hearty clasp when they were introduced but a moment later his smile gave way to a frown and his brow darkened.

"So! You are that O'Reilly from Matanzas," said he. "I know you now but—I never expected we would meet."

"Esteban Varona told you about me, did he not?"

The colonel inclined his head.

"I'm here at last after the devil's own time. I've been trying every way to get through. The Spaniards stopped me at Puerto Principe—they sent me back home, you know. I've been perfectly crazy. You—O'Reilly swallowed hard. "You know where Esteban is? Tell me."

"Have you heard nothing?"

"Nothing whatever. That is, nothing since Rosa, his sister. You understand, she and I are engaged."

"Yes yes; Esteban told me all about you."

Something in the Cuban's gravity of manner gave O'Reilly warning. A sudden fear assailed him. His voice shook as he asked:

"What is it? Not bad news?"

There was no need for the officer to answer. In his avowed gaze O'Reilly read confirmation of his silent apprehensions.

"Tell me! Which one?" he whispered.

"Both!"

O'Reilly recoiled; a spasm distorted his chalky face. He began to shake weakly and his fingers plucked aimlessly at each other.

Lopez took him by the arm. "Try to control yourself," said he. "Sit here while I try to tell you what little I know. Or would it not be better to wait awhile until you are calmer?"

As the young man made no answer except to stare at him in a white agony of suspense he sighed.

"I will tell you all I know—which isn't much. Esteban Varona came to me soon after he and his sister had fled from their home. He wanted to join my forces, but we were harassed on every side and I didn't dare take the girl—no woman could have endured the hardships we suffered. So I convinced him that his first duty was to her rather than to his country and he agreed. He was a fine boy! He had spirit. He bought some stolen rifles and armed a band of his own—which wasn't a bad idea. I used to hear about him. Nobody dared to molest him. I can tell you until finally he killed some of the regular troops. Then of course they went after him. Meanwhile he managed to destroy his own plantations, which Cueto had robbed him of. You know Cueto?"

"Yes."

"Well, Esteban put an end to him after a while, rode right up to La Jora one night, broke in the door and mached the scoundrel in his bed. But there was a mistake of some sort. It seems that a body of Cuban volunteers were somewhere close by, and the two parties met. I have never learned all the details of the affair and the stories of that fight which come to me are too preposterous for belief. Still Esteban and his men must have fought like demons, for they killed some incredible number. But they were human—they could not defeat a regiment. It seems that only one or two of them escaped."

"Esteban? Did he—"

Colonel Lopez nodded, then he said gravely: "Cobo takes no prisoners. I was in the Rubi hills at the time fighting hard and it was six weeks before I got back into Matanzas. Naturally when I heard what happened I tried to find the girl but Weyler was concentrating the pygmies by the time and there was nobody left in the laager. It was a disaster."

Then you don't know positively that she—

"Wait! There is no doubt that the boy was killed but of Rosa's fate I can only form my own opinion. However, one of Esteban's men joined my troops after and I not only learned something about the girl but also who Esteban had been so relentlessly pursued. It was all Cobo's doing. You have heard of the fellow? No? Well, you will. The speaker's tone was eloquent of hatred. 'He is worse than the worst of them—a monster! He had seen Miss Varona. She was a beautiful girl!'

"Go on!" whispered the lover.

"I discovered that she didn't at first obey Weyler's edict. She and the two negroes—they were former slaves of her father I believe—took refuge in the Pan de Matanzas. Later on Cobo's men made a raid and killed a great many. Some few escaped into the high places but Miss Varona was not one of them. Out of regard for Esteban I made careful search but I could find no trace of her."

"And yet you don't know what happened?" O'Reilly ventured. "You're not sure?"

"No, but I tell you again Cobo's men take no prisoners. When I heard about that raid I gave up looking for her. There is a standing order to spare neither Cobo nor any of his assassins, they neither expect nor receive quarter from us. Now companions—the Cuban dropped a hand on O'Reilly's bowed head—"I am sorry that I had to

"Why Look for Ethics in War?"

The sudden fury that flared Colonel Lopez's face was almost hidden by the gloom. "Yes. Oh yes, he cried quickly and you are but one of a hundred. I am another. In my command there is a standing order to spare neither Cobo nor any of his assassins, they neither expect nor receive quarter from us. Now companions—the Cuban dropped a hand on O'Reilly's bowed head—"I am sorry that I had to bring you such evil tidings but we are men—and this is war."

"No no! It isn't war—it's merciless savagery. To murder children and to outrage women—why, that violates all the ethics of warfare."

"Ethics," the colonel cried harshly. "Ethics! Hell is without ethics. Why look for ethics in war? Violence—murder—insanity—chaos—that is war. It is man's nature—woman's the spirit. It is a distance of God. It is without mercy, without law, it is—well, it is the absence of all law. It is good."

It was some time before O'Reilly spoke then he said quickly: "I am not going back. I am going to stay here and look for Rosa."

"So?" exclaimed the colonel. "Well, why not? So long as we do not know precisely what has happened to her we can at least hope. But if I were you I would rather think of her as dead than as a prisoner in some concentration camp. You don't know what those camps are like my friend, but I do. Now I shall leave you. One needs to be alone at such a hour, eh? With a pressure of his hand Colonel Lopez walked away into the darkness."

Judson and his adventurous countryman did not see O'Reilly that night nor in fact did anyone. But the next morning he appeared before General Gomez. He was heavily clad, listless. The old Porto Rican had heard from Lopez in the meantime he was sympathetic.

"I inferred as much from what Lopez told me. The general nodded his white head. Well, you'll make a good soldier and we shall be glad to have you. He extended his hand and O'Reilly took it gratefully.

"The city of Matanzas was 'pacified,'"

So ran the bottom hands of the captain general. And his was no exaggerated claim. Of all his military operations this 'pacification' of the western towns and provinces was the most conspicuously successful. Under the one which gave Valeriano Weyler the greatest satisfaction for having done the rebellion lift its head—except perhaps among the ranks of those disaffected men who hid in the hills with nothing above them but the open sky. As for the population at large it was a word of treason. It no longer resented even weakly, the law of Spain. There was no more that it lay, drug. Well, a cure was simple, efficient—it consisted of extermination, swift and pitiless.

THE PARAMOUNT.

"THE WEAVER OF DREAMS."—A five part Metro feature in which Viola Dana, the winsome star has a sympathetic and appealing role in a picture of Myrtle Reed's novel, is being presented today. Her role of Judith Sylvester is a simple and lovable country girl like in "Blue Jeans," portrayed by Miss Dana, and the part is similar in its appeal and human interest. "Weaver of Dreams" is a story of the heart, and Miss Dana excels in her characterization. The action takes place in a rural community filled with quaint types of humanity, where among simple surroundings a drama of the human heart is played. Those who have read the story will be delighted to see it reproduced on the screen. Miss Dana is supported by a cast of favorite players. Her leading man is Clifford Bruce, who has supported the star in other productions. Tomorrow William Desmond will be seen in "Captain of His Soul." Wednesday Bluebird presents "Hungry Eyes." On Thursday Alice Brady will be starred in "The Spurs of Sybil," and on Friday and Saturday Norma Talmadge will appear in "The Secret of the Storm Country."

ORPHEUM THEATRE.

"INTOLERANCE."—D. W. Griffith's "Intolerance," which the leading dramatic critics of this country have proclaimed the most stupendous as well as the most magnificent spectacle ever produced, is shown at the Orpheum theatre today and tomorrow. The theme of this latest achievement, which it is stated sets a standard of colossal production which even Mr. Griffith may never be able to excel, is Love's struggle throughout the ages. The scenes are laid in four ages of the world's development: ancient Babylon, the Nazarene's Judea, Medieval Paris, and a modern American city. "Intolerance" is the successor of Mr. Griffith's "The Birth of a Nation." It is said to have cost two million dollars and 125,000 people, 7,500 horses and 1,500 chariots to part in it. Among the film favorites having its principal roles are: Mae Marsh, Miriam Cooper, Constance Talmadge, Seena Owen, Bessie Love, Margery Wilson, Lillian Gish, Robert Harron, Alfred Paget, Walter Long and Einar Clifton.

SOISSON THEATRE.

"THE MINISTER'S WIFE." For the second week of their stay the Chester Bishop Players will present the rural comedy, "The Minister's Wife." This delightful comedy was used by Miss Mildred Holland for several seasons. Miss Duncan will be seen in the character of Avis Merrill, created by Miss Holland. Mr. Bishop will play the village parson who wins the love of the great violinist, who has been courted by the royalty of Europe. Miss Aubrey will play another different part, that of a village gossip, while Will LeRoss will have the leading comedy part. The Chester Bishop Players are growing in popularity every day by their splendid productions and delightful performances. The usual matinee will be given Monday, Wednesday and Saturday.

THE ARCADE.

Arcade patrons will no doubt remember the appearance of Mersereau Brothers' Mile-a-Minute show in October. It was one of the best shows that ever played the house. Opening today in "Election Day in Spilvensville," is another Mersereau show, "The Submarine Girls," but featuring the principal comedian with the other show, Simmie Myers, who is some comedian. Reports of the show are good. Both the Mersereau shows are good comedy and singing organizations. The special feature of this show are Wally Mersereau, the big boy, and Minnie Mersereau, just smiles, a classy harmony pair; the Elliot Sisters, blue ribbon singers and dancers; Larry Powers, the comic boy and the two clever comedians, Scott Morse and Jesse "Simmie" Myers, that simple kid. Another special feature is the Paramount Comedy Singing Four, which is always a
